SPEAKING WHERE THE BIBLE SPEAKS; SILENT WHERE THE BIBLE IS SILENT

June 2, 2013

Fire? What Fire?

The scene takes place at the base of Mt. Sinai. The peak is covered with fire and smoke is billowing off of the summit because the LORD descended upon the mountain in fire. Although, it has been weeks since the trumpet blasted and Moses went up the mountain there is still lightning and the sound of thunder and the mountain continues to shake with the LORD's presence.

See if you can imagine yourself there. The Israelites have seen the power wielded in the plagues, have crossed a mighty sea through parted waters, were delivered from the hand of the Egyptians, manna, appears with the dew daily, water has been brought forth from a rock and now they are camping at the foot of a mountain engulfed in God. Then they come to Aaron with this request...

Egypt, we don't know what has happened to him." (Ex. 32:1)

What? The Israelites are literally asking for "gods" to lead them, with God staring them in the face. I want Aaron to say, "Are you crazy? The LORD is right there!" Instead I can almost see him shrugging and saying, "Well, give me some gold."

If you're still picturing yourself at Mt. Sinai, ask yourself, "How did we get here?" The answer lies in the simplest thing, you forgot what was right in front of your eyes or maybe you just stopped looking. I remember placing notes on my mirror to motivate me to do something, and it worked because I saw it daily, then although it was still there, I stopped seeing it. One of Satan's most effective tools is to make our worship, our prayers, or our communion so routine that we stop seeing the amazing presence of God, even though He is right there. Never let yourself lose what is right in front of your eyes. We have a God Who is no less a fiery mountain in our lives today. Praise Him with passion, revel in His presence, and follow where He guides

When the people saw that Moses was so long in coming down from the mountain, they gathered around Aaron and said, "Come, make us gods who will go before us. As for this fellow Moses who brought us up out of greater knowledge of God. I wish that all parents everywhere showed that kind of love for their children.

Then I started thinking about those children. There's so much to love about our kids. They are open, honest, affectionate, and filled with such simplicity. They don't wear a disguise because they are unconscious of any kind of need of one. They receive instruction, facts, and gifts without any pretense. They are so pure.

So, three resolutions came to mind.

Let's be kind to our children. Jesus received them gladly, and I should too. I thought again of our wonderful Bible class teachers who love and teach them. There's no greater work.

"Whoever receives one such child in my Name receives Me," said

Jesus. And again, "See that you do not despise one of these little ones; for I tell you that in heaven their angels always behold the face of My Father Who is in heaven."

Let's guard our children. Let's put no stumbling block in their way either through our teaching or our example. Centuries ago, it was Juvenal who said, "Let nothing foul to either eye or ear reach those doors within which dwells a boy."

Let's become like our children. If we miss this, we "will never enter the kingdom of heaven" (Matthew 18:3).

Little Thoughts

Last Lord's Day, while standing in the hallway in our educational wing, I watched the children on their way to Bible Class. I couldn't help but pray a prayer of thanksgiving for the mothers and dads leading their children by the hand to get a
