REPORT FOR THE MONTH OF SEPTEMBER 2016 - TOM EK POT JR

Dearly beloved in Christ, I salute you all in Jesus name, hoping that you are doing well. Your prayers have been so helpful to us, despite the recession Nigerian leaders have plunged the Country into, God continues to see us through. But it is true that prices of common items have now gone out of the reach of common Nigerians. It becomes luxury when people eat rich, because many people can no longer afford the price. I believe God has a purpose for this, so that people will stop trusting in their wealth and power, but depend solely on God.

The month of September was a swift one, full of memorable events. It calls to mind when my wife was born, when my first son was born, and some 15 years ago that we had to run away from our homes because of Islamic attack that killed thousands of people in Jos. It also brings the ugly memory of 9/11 when evil people murdered several innocent people in the Trade Centre and the Pentagon in terrible manner. Brethren, God has brought us a long way, surely He will not leave us half way.

The month of September as I earlier mentioned was full of activities. Our evangelism outreach at Foron received a boost as my students came in to help. We will continue to reach the inhabitant of Foron with the Gospel. There is a dominant denomination in this village that has influenced everyone, such that anyone who is not a member is considered as an outcast. Gradually, with the help of God we are penetrating. I don't expect the work to be easy, but with persistency, we will take the village for Jesus. Our children class in the Church is going on well. Children from the neighborhood are coming, am glad because they find this class interesting and educating. If God sustains them, they will grow to love God the more and to know the truth that saves man. Through them, we will get access into their parents as well.

The Annual Preachers'/Leaders' was held in the School of Biblical Studies, Jos. Several preachers from across the Country turned up for the program. Many congregations do not have programs for youths' development. And the youths are the future of hope of the church. If they are not properly brought up, then the church does not have any good future. Hence, the workshop centers on how to develop the youths.

The program was very good because preachers had opportunity to share their challenges and seek for better ways of dealing with problems. Many preachers want me to come over their congregation to teach on some burning issues. I pray God will enable be reach out to them and help them solve some of the emerging issues, especially doctrinal problems. Keep praying for us.

Brethren, I am writing this last Thursday. Usually in this area I look on the Internet to see what I can put in to fill the space. As I write, I am listening to the storm news. People in the Bahamas are as I write trying to save their homes and lives.

Much is going through my mind. What can I do to help those affected by the storm? How will I prepare for the storm? What else can I do to get ready? Will there even be the same reality after Friday night that there is now? Will my loved ones be safe?

I am left with one inescapable conclusion, as I have been many times before. The only reality I can cling to is that my God is more powerful than any hurricane. My prayer is for safety, my own and others. As you read this, the storm will have passed. That gives me strength and hope. God bless us all, before the storm and after.

-Joe
