Email from Nigeria

Hello brother Holloway,
 Greetings to you and the Church. Thanks for your mail. I am sorry; I have been disconnected from the world, as the line supplying power to my office was destroyed. We are alright. The problem started in Jos on Monday, but has since by suppressed. Massive killing are going on many other places in the northern Nigeria. I spoke with a brother in Toro this afternoon, he told me that they are sleeping in the bush, as many houses are burnt, and church buildings are burnt. Jos is under tension. Please, keep us in prayer. Come next week Tuesday, the Governorship election is coming up. I know it will be another trouble time, but God is able.

Grace and Peace

Tom

(from all accounts I can read on the www it looks as if elections were peaceful in the South but riots again broke out in the North where Tom is. The incumbent president was re-elected.–Joe)
